the returns were on their way to Albany. The CITY REPUBLICANS ACTIVE. County Clerk being advised, according to McCurdy, that he was making himself liable for contempt in forwarding the returns when he knew of the existence of the injunction, started immediately for Albany and saw the Governor. The Governor told him that he had better get the returns at once and take them back if he knew which was organized in 1888, sat down to their fourth when he was well off, and told him to see Judge annual dinner in the large dining room of the Hote Maynard, who was then Deputy Attorney General, about the case. County Clerk Emans, according to the speaker, went with Mr. Maynard to the Controller's office and got the letter containing the

At this point the speaker was interrupted by Everett P. Wheeler, who asked if he were sure that County Clerk Emans went with Judge Maypard to get the returns. Mr. McCurdy declared emphatically that he was sure on this point. "The proof is to the contrary," rejoined Mr. Wheeler, "and that is why I asked."

"The fact is as I state it," answered Mr. Me-Curdy again.

"All right," responded Mr. Wheeler, "only as matter of fact, the proof is to the contrary."

There was a general laugh at the expense of Mr. McCurdy at this, and then he continued. Mr. Maynard, as counsel to the Controller, the latter not being there, had a perfect right to do that which he had advised his client to do. This advice, it appeared, which was gifen to the Controller, was that the returns from Dutchers County nust be sent back after the County Clerk had lisobeyed the injunction of Justice Ingraham, and lorwarded them.

When County Clerk Emans came to Albany with the injunction order of Justice Ingraham," tontinued the speaker, "he had a perfect right to do just what I should have done if I had been as souvenirs of the occasion. in his place only I should have tried to do it

After Mr. McCurdy had closed, Roger Foster got up and made a genuine political harangue. He accused such respectable members of the association as Mr. Carter and his associates in drafting the resolutions of holding a caucus to make capital for a political party and to throw mud on a judicial officer. His talk was treated with silent contempt, and then Nelson Smith made a speech on much the same lines.

Following him came ex-Judge Noah Davis, who is seldom seen at the rooms of the association in these days. Ex-Judge Davis's speech was to the point, though not long, and many times while delivering it he was interrupted by enthusiastic applause. He began by saving:

The character of no judge can be blackened by this association unless it has been blackened by himself." Continuing, he said that he was sur-treated Messrs. Foster and Smith with cutting sur-casm, and these men probably wished they never had been born or at least had not tried to fire off political oratory of the spread-eagle style to such men as those present. Mr. Condert declared em-phatically that Mr. Smith had neither oral nor written authority on which to base the assertions which he had made. Mr. Condert wished to re-pudiate, he said, with all the power he possessed the declaration that the fact that for ten years the Democratic party had not had control of the upper branch of the State Legislature had any-thing whatever to do with the action which the association was to take that right. Serious charges indeed had been made against a judicial officer, and it would be accordingly peculiar if debate on that subject was to be suppressed for political reasons.

debate on that subject was to be suppressed for political reasons.

"After Mr. Smith has spoken," he said, "I want to speak for the Democratic party."

Prolonged applause greeted this remark. There was no doubt, that if the returns which had been deposited in the Postoffice by the County Clerk had been delivered to the Board of Canvassers, a different result might have been obtained. As a master of fact, also these returns had been put in the Postoffice and they were not addressed Maynard. "Is it not worth our while," he asked, "to investigate a charge that important public decuments have been to deny, he added, that a grave seendal had been attached to the alleged action of Judge Maynard and the members of one party to a man believed that they had been wronged. The members of the other party also felt that they would like to have the matter sifetd.

"Mr. McCurdy says that he would have done."

was the would have done the same thing. Well I do not think that he would but if he did we would investigate him. It was not enough to justify Judge Maynard for Mr. McCurdy to say that he would have done dent.

Mr. McCurdy to say that he would have done the same thing.

Speaking of Mr. Foster, he said that in the innocence and impetuousity of youth Mr. Foster said many things which the older members loved to listen to, and he treated all of Mr. Foster's remarks in the same manner. There was prolonged cheering at the close of this speech, and there were loud calls for the question. It was put by Mr. Peckham, and adopted almost unanimously, as before said, only a few weak "noes" coming from the back of the hall.

Mr. Peckham said that he would not announce the members of the special committee until a later date.

THE TRAGEDY AT YOKOHAMA.

WHAT THE MONOCACY'S SURGEON SAYS OF MRS. HETHERINGTON'S GIDDINESS AND LOVE OF ADMIRATION.

San Francisco, March 8 (Spécial).—The Hetherington tragedy in Yokohama is still the chief topic in naval circles here, and an important contribution to the story of the shooting was made to-day by Dr. Northfleet, surgeon of the Monocacy, who came over here on sick According to his story, Mrs. Hetherington is a vain, silly woman, who cannot get along without men's admiration. She flirted on the steamer going to Chica, and from the hour she arrived at the Grand Hotel, Yokohama, she evidently did all in her power to attract attention. She was the talk of the foreign rolony before she had been a member of it twenty-four hours. Gower Robinson was soon her favorite cavalier, but though she took luncheons and drives with him while her husband was on duty aboard his ship, Hetherington seemed to see nothing wrong till the New Year's eye ball, when he surprised his wife and Robinson in a tender Interview. Dr. Northfleet says the feather-brained character of

Mrs. Hetherington was shown clearly in her conduct after the shooting, on the very day of the tracedy. She went to Admiral Bellinop's wife and said: Judge," " the pet name by which she called her husband, "and I have been invited to the Russian Co sul's ball to-night. Of course 'the Judge' is in jail and cannot go, but I don't see why I should refuse." Mrs. Bellump, when she recovered from her astonishment, said: "It would be indecent. You must not think of going."

"Why1" was the reply. "I don't see any good

I didn't do the shooting."

Finally Mrs. Belknap made her write a letter of declination. What was the horror of the Admiral's wife, when at the Russian Consul's that night, to see Mrs. Hetherington sail in, dressed in white taile and blazing with diamonds, and take a seat as though nothing had happened. The company was aghast, and it took several minutes for even the veterans to regula their composure; but this woman chatted and laughed as though she had not n care in the world. The only affusion she made to the tragedy was a casual remark that "'The Judge' has shot George."

The Doctor says that it was reported in Yohohama that M. Pors, the closest personal friend of Robinson, knows of a telegram sent to Robinson by Hetherington agreeing to his return to Yokohama. Pors had not returned from Kobe when the steamer sailed. Americans in Yokohama believe that Hetherington acted rashly, as his wife's fliritations had been notorious, and he had no proof of criminal relations between the pair, unless it were found in letters which Robbisson wrote to Mrs. Hetherington, and which she allowed to fall into her bushand's hands. It is said that Hether-ington showed these letters to his fellow-officers on the Marion, and that they ndvised him to shoot Robinson.

The Republican District Committee of the XIVth Assembly District met last evening at its headquarters No. 352 East Twelfth st., to discuss the coming campage. The members expressed themselves as enstate, and they will make a strong fig't for prised flat Judge Maynard had not invited just such an investigation as was proposed. If he were innocent he certainly had nothing to fear from such a course, and in view of the many things which had been said derogatory to him, the speaker should think that he would be glad to smbrace the opportunity to put him self in a right light before the people of the State. On the face of the charges which had been made against Judge Maynard, his conduct was certainly questionable, and no one in the State would be more pleased to prove these charges false than the members of the Bar Association, if Judge Maynard would give them an opportunity to do so.

This speech was warmly applauded, and after quiet was restored Frederia R. Coudert arose, he kept his bearers laughing or applauding at short intervals all the time he was speaking. He treated Messrs, Foster and Smith with cutting sarcasm, and these men probably wished they never had been born or at least had not tried to fire off political oratory of the spread-cagle style to such men as those present. Mr. Coudert declared emphatically that Mr. Smith had neither oral nor written authority on which to base the assertions which he had made. the allies of Hill and Tammany in the Manhattan Club had determined to punish Frederic R. Condert for taking a prominent part in the Democratic revolt the club, eminert Tammanyttes denied the rumor with great earnestness and promptitude. They ridiculed the idea. So unquestioned an authority as Police Commissioner James J. Martin said: "Tammany Hall doesn't make its fights in the Manhattan Club." Yet that is exactly what Tammany Hall is doing, and the man above all others whose defeat it would like to compass, is Frederic R. Coudert. The club election will take place on Thursday evening. March f7. There are to be elected five governors-called managers in the club constitution-one-third of the board, which is now composed of fifteen members. Five of these members are elected every year for a term of three years. The governors whose terms expire in April of this year are Frederic R. Coudert, Charles B. Peet, Edward Schell, J. Edward Simmons Charles B. Freet, Edward Scheif, J. Edward Schallons and Charles H. Truax. The governors who still have one year more to serve are C. C. Baldwin, J. Sergeant Cram, L. H. Livingston, Robert Maclay and F. K. Pendleton. Those whose terms will expire in April, 1894, are David B. Gilbert, George G. Haven, John Hone, Walter Stanton and William C. Whitney.

There are four tickets in the field, duly nominated according to the customs of the club. The first is made up of the five outgoing managers, Mr. Coudert, Mr. Peet, Mr. Schell, Mr. Simmons and Judge Truax. They have the support of the better part of the club who believe in keeping factional fights, clique quarrels and petty jealousies out of the association. The second ticket is called the Hill-Tammany ticket. It bears the names of Douglas Taylor, Manton Marble, Harry D. Macdona, John A. Rutherfurd and Frank S. Ellis. Its supporters propose to defeat Prederic R. Coudert for presiding at the big anti-Hill meeting at Cooper Union on February 11, and to defeat all his fellow-governors who are candidates for re-election. The third ticket is a cross between the first two, and contains the names of Manton Marble, F. R. Condert. Douglas Taylor, Judge Truax and Charles M. Oelrichs. The fourth ticket contains the first four names on the first ticket, Messrs. Coudert, Peet, Schell and Simmons, but substitutes J. M. Levy in place Judgo Truax.

The substitution has its source in petty club politics. Its principal backers are Mr. Schwan, Carl Eglinger, R. Woolfenden, E. J. Jerzmanowski, L. Napoleon Levy and L. J. Galenzer.

Mr. Condert's defeat as a manager would, of course, involve his retirement from the presidency of the club, a place which he has filled for several years with singular ability, devotion and brilliancy. This, however, iwhat the Tammany tiger proposes to bring what the Tammany tiger proposes to bring about, Mr. Condert has offended the tiger and he will be appeased only by Mr. Condert's humiliation. There are many honorable and fairminded men, even in Tammany Hall, who deprecate this shortsighted and contemptible policy. There will be a strong and hearty raily at the club of Mr. Condert's friends on the night of the election, and they believe that they will be successful, and that the tiger, instead of Mr. Condert, will be "turned down."

REORGANIZATION IN KINGS.

THE REPUBLICAN GENERAL COMMITTEE ADOPTS NEW METHODS.

Republican reorganization was the principal subject under consideration at the meeting of the Kings County General Committee, in the Criterion Theatre, in Brooklyn, last evening. At the February meeting a report upon the matter. This committee presented a preliminary report, enlarging the powers of the disfriet captains, as a preliminary step to reorganization by election districts. William W. Goodrich presided F. H. Field read the report of the Committee on Reorganization. It set forth that it would be unwise important Presidential canvass. The report also included a stirring appeal to the Republican voters of Kings County, in which these statements were made:
"We have arrived at a juncture which calls for ended when the ballots have been cost and counted stuffing ballot-boxes and making false counts and false returns are vulgar and antiquated methods of thwart ing the popular will wholly unworthy of the accomplished political highwaymen who now control the Democratic party in this and other States. The courts were able to reach and punish the petty thieves and rascals who tampered with the ballot-box or falsified sturns, and sometimes to prevent the wrongs they sought to accomplish. But against the more godacions methods by which great thieves in high places steal State Legislatures they seem to be powerless. No power can save our libertles but the power of the in their sovereign capacity. The committee proposed an amendment to the by-laws providing for the appointment of district captains by the first Monday in April of each year, and empowering them to prepare a roll of the voters in their respective districts; to use every effort to secure a full registration and vote; and to prevent illegal registrato recommend the nomes of suitable men to act as officers at the polis on election day, and to have ful command of the working force at the polls. The amendment was adopted, with only one or two votes in opposition. An amendment providing for a sub-completee on naturalization was also adopted. Steps were taken to enroll the Republicans in the new Eighteenth. Twenty-seventh and Twenty-eighth Wards.

REPUBLICAN SWEEP IN ROCHESTER.

DEMOCRATIC GERRYMANDERING FAILS TO AVERT

Rochester, March 8 (Special).-The Republican tidalwave reached Rochester to-day and the steets are filled with jubilant Republicans this evening. As-semblyman Richard Curran defeats Mayor William Carroll for re-election by 3,000 plurality; George W. Aldridge, Republican, is re-elected member of the Executive Board by nearly 0,000, and in spite of the gerrymandering of the city into twenty new wards the Republicans elect fifteen of the twenty Aldermen. The Board of Education will stand fourteen Republicans to six Democrats. The next Board of Supervisors will probably stand thirty Republicans to nine Democrats; the last loard was composed of twenty-three Republi-cans and twelve Democrats, the four additional words cans and twelve Democrats, the four additional wards increasing the total membership. Many Democrats apparently voted the Republican ticket.

Batavia, N. Y., March S.—At the charter election held here to day the entire Republican ticket was elected by large majorities.

Ageneseo, Livingston County's elects Republican supervisors to day. Returns from the county indicate the election of eleven Republican and six Democratic Supervisors, a Republican gain of four.

PROBIBITION WIPED OUT IN IOWA. Des Moines, Iowa, March 8.—The Iowa Prohibition Law was practically wiped out of existence to-day. The State Senate, by a vote of 27 to 22, adopted the Gotch bill, which Senate, by a vote of 2, to 22 accepts the teach only when allows county option, each community to have the right to settle the liquor question for itself, by-elections to take place not oftener then every five years. The matter can be brought up on the petition of one-fifth of the legal voters. Three Republican Senators this afternoon sided with a number of Democrats in passing the bill. There is little doubt that the measure will receive the approval of Gov-ernor Boles and become a statute.

That's what they offer, and in good faith—they cure you, or pay you, no matter how had your case, or of how long standing.

But—is it so much of a risk? They have a medicine that cures Catarrh, not for a time, but for all time. They've watched it for years, curing the most hopeless cases. They know that in your case there's every chance of success, almost no chance of failure.

Wouldn't any one take such a risk with such a medicine?

The only question is—are you willing to make the test, if the makers are willing to take the risk?

mous consent, and at the request of Mr. Husted, Senator McMahon's bill allowing the trustees of the Gran Monument Fund to elect sixty-seven new members to their board, was advanced, and finally passed. The bill authorizing the increase of the number of Grant Monument Trustees to 100 was taken to Al-bany by General Horace Porter, the president of the association. General Porter said last night:

"The idea of increasing the number of members of the Board is to make the Board commensurate in size with the importance of the project. The Board will select with great care and deliberation the most prominent and eminent citizens to make up the complement authorized. "There is now perfect, absolute harmony existing in the Board. The foundations of the monument are completed. The first course of granite, ten feet in height, will be at once constructed. The corner-stone will be laid on General Grant's next birthday anniversary. April 27, with imposing ceremonies, worthy of the occasion. It is believed that when the present plans for raising money are matured sufficient funds will be forthcoming to continue the work without interruption."

Chicago, March 8 (special).-An important step will probably be taken to morrow in the Scadder manity proceedings. It is expected that State's Attorney Dunton, will make a motion in Judge Scales's Court to dismiss the insanity proceedings, and remand Dr. Scudder to the custody of the police to be tried for murder. This step would have been taken to-day if Judge Longnecker had been in the city. Judge Scales to-day said that he would dismiss the insanity warrant if the State's Attorney moved for that order and showed sufficient cause. A dose of bromide of potassium and chloral hydrate was given to Dr. night's sleep. He was very morose this morning when visited by Dr. Noble and refused to get out of his cot. Afterward when requested by the attendant to take a bath he sullenly refused, but when informed that if he did not do as directed he would be bathed by force he meekly obeyed. Inquiry develops the fact that he was careful of what he did during his the of violence on Monday. The blow given with a chair to a fellow-patient was about as gently ad-ministered as possible and in spite of a splendid opsmashing the chair against the door of

THE WEATHER REPORT.

A COLD WAVE IN THE NORTHWEST.

Washington, March 8 .- The storm from the southwest the Jarsey coast. The pressure decreased rapidly on the Atlantic Coast, attended by heavy rains from New-Eng-land and the lower Lake region, southward to Florida. Although the becometer is unusually low at the centre, the gradient is slight, and no unusually high winds are reported fro in the coast. The storm north of Montana this morning has moved rapidly castward to Northern Minnesot, followed by a rapid increase in pressure and a cold wave in the extreme Northwest, the temperature having fallen from 20 degrees to 40 degrees in portions of Dakota and Min-nesota, with rain or snow. The indications are that the cloudiness will increase, with rain or snow in the Northwest and upper Lake region during Wednesday or Wednesday night, with a cold wave by Taursday morning, extending southward to Missouri and probably eastward to Michigan. Threatening weather, with rain or snow, will continue in New-England, and showers followed by clear-
